TY COBB WANTED BY OGDEN TEAM

Weber Club Sends a Message Offering the World's Greatest Baseball Player $10,000 For the Season of 1912—Detroit Star Would Act as Manager and as Such Be Allowed to Play.

Tyrus Cobb, the star outfielder and batsman of the Detroit Americans, who is suspended at the present time, has been asked to come to this city and manage the baseball club. In a telegram sent today by Dr. H. M. Rowe, on behalf of the Weber club, Cobb was offered the management of the Ogdén baseball team at a handsome salary. The telegram read as follows:

"Tyrus Cobb, Detroit American Team, Washington, D. C.: State your terms to take management of Ogdén baseball club, a member of the Union Baseball association. (Signed.)

"DR. H. M. ROWE, President Weber Club. Dr. Rowe states that the business men who have just arranged to take over the local baseball franchise will pay Ty Cobb $10,000 for the season if he will consent to come to this city and manage and play with the team. It is estimated that he would be worth that much to the organization as a drawing card.

At the present time Cobb is suspended from the American league because of trouble he recently had with a fan who made remarks that displeased him, and he is not allowed to play with the Detroit team, although Jennings and his men greatly need the world's greatest batter just at this time.

What answer Cobb will make to the telegram from the Weber club remains to be seen.

If Cobb comes as manager he will be allowed to play.

RETURNING FROM THE COAST

Ogdén people who made the trip to Southern California about three weeks ago with the Shriners are returning with words of praise for Los Angeles and other southern California cities. Judge A. E. Heywood and wife returned this afternoon well pleased with the outing, but glad to return home. Mr. Heywood says that it was one of the most pleasant trips of his life and that he found everything in a prosperous condition in Los Angeles, San Diego and other places in southern California.

Dr. S. L. Brick and wife have also returned and they say the vacation was exceptionally enjoyable. The doctor says he never saw California more beautiful than at the present time and that he was surprised to note the increased population of the southern cities, especially Los Angeles. In Los Angeles, he says, there were 90,000 strangers while the Shriners were there and the streets were so crowded that one could hardly get along.

While away, Dr. and Mrs. Brick visited San Pedro, Santa Barbara and other places of interest.

SHOOTING AT THE LOCAL TRAPS

Ogdén marksmen at the traps yesterday had some difficulty hitting the birds owing to unfavorable weather, but the score is considered fairly good and the shooter feel that they are qualified to enter the Utah-Idaho contest at Salt Lake next week, and that there is a possibility of winning some of the events.

The scores yesterday were: W. H. Anderson, 93; T. S. Brown, 81, and George Browning, 58. The weather was so bad that other shooters did not undertake to practice but it is expected that nearly all members of the Ogdén club will be at the grounds this afternoon.

Those who anticipate participating in the big tournament in Salt Lake, beginning May 27, and continuing until the 13th, are W. H. Anderson, Moroni Skeen, Archie P. Bigelow, O. L. Becker, T. S. Browning and George Browning. John Browning who is expected home from Europe in time to take part in the shoot, has not yet arrived and may fall to reach here in time for the event.

This afternoon and tomorrow afternoon the Ogdén team will practice at the local grounds and on Friday will shoot at the traps in Salt Lake, where the Utah-Idaho tournament will be held.

FROM UNIVERSITY TO PENITENTIARY

San Francisco, May 22.—Following the publication yesterday of the prologue of an article written by Abraham Ruef in his cell at San Quentin prison, giving an account of his career from the university to the penitentiary, the first chapter of the story was printed today in the San Francisco Bulletin. The serial is entitled "The Road I Traveled."

In the foreword, published several days before the last of the Ruef indictments were dismissed by Superior Judge Dunne, the convicted politician promised to tell all the facts concerning the corrupt deals entered into by the officials of San Francisco with what he terms "big business" during the time that he was interested in municipal affairs.

Ruef told today how he entered politics as a secretary of a city Republican club, his election resulting from his ability to write. His account of the first meeting of the club was published in the newspapers as he wrote it and he was pronounced a success as a secretary.

"Thus was I launched into politics," Ruef writes in concluding his first chapter.

Mr. Ernest Braithwaite and his bride, Annette De Young Braithwaite, will leave for Mantle tomorrow morning, where they will make their permanent home.

BIG DROP IN THE FLOOD WATERS

The cold snap of last night and yesterday afternoon had much to do with checking the rise of the waters of the two great rivers converging at Ogdén, and today there is not much danger of property destruction along their banks. Both the Weber and the Ogden are a foot lower today than they were yesterday morning.

A force of men was at work all day yesterday trying to repair the levee at the Marriott ditch and considerable progress was made. With the fall of water in the stream, there will not be much difficulty in getting control of the flood waters and confining them to the river channel.

County Commissioner Oscar Madison was at the seat of trouble yesterday afternoon and he states that heroic work was done to hold in check the flood. Lands in the vicinity of Marriott and Slater were submerged and it seemed impossible to stop the flow in that direction.

Supt. J. W. Bailey of the Rapid Transit company says that the water in the canyon is not now giving any trouble, but that a little water is being done to protect the track. The river has fallen considerably since noon yesterday.

60 SLOGANS FOR OGDEN CITY

At a meeting of the directors of the Ogdén publicity bureau Tuesday evening, O. J. Stilwell, secretary of the organization, presented 60 slogans that have been submitted for consideration in the slogan contest that is being conducted by the publicity bureau for the purpose of securing a suitable slogan to advertise Ogdén.

None of the contributions seemed quite suited to the needs of the organization, and so Mr. Stilwell was instructed to notify the public, and especially the pupils of the city's schools, to try it again. Following are some of the best contributions submitted in the competition:

All roads end at Ogdén.

Ogdén offers opportunity.

Ogdén—Queen City of the West.

Onward Ogdén, the oasis of the West.

Give Ogdén the prominence her environment demands.

Ogdén opportunities outweigh others offered.

Observe Ogdén overtakes others.

Ogdén, the great farming and railroad center.

Ogdén, the city of great resources.

Observe Ogdén's onward onslaught.

Onward to Ogdén for opportunities.

Build Ogdén bigger than the 50,000 figure.

BACKING FOR BASEBALL CLUB

At a meeting of business men, which was presided over by Dr. H. M. Rowe, Tuesday evening at the Weber club it was decided that John J. McCloskey's local baseball franchise be taken over and that a new organization should be formed and capitalized at $20,000. A resolution to that effect was passed and articles of incorporation will be filed in the near future.

The business men interested in the baseball club will sell $10,000 worth of the stock this season and hold the other $10,000 worth of stock in reserve.

No definite plans were made as to the future business arrangements for governing the amusement enterprise, but a meeting will be held some time this week, at which time a board of governors for the baseball club will be named.

WM. J. BRYAN AS PRIVATE CITIZEN

Minneapolis, May 22.—William Jennings Bryan, in a brief address to the Presbyterian conference today, said: "I entered the church when 14 years of age and was then too young to recognize creeds and since then have been too busy to do so. Therefore, as one who has devoted his life to politics—and I expect to devote the remainder of my life to it—I want to urge the members of all churches to work for public morality and for good government."

"I don't want you to expect to believe that I am, or ever expect to be, a candidate. I can do more by remaining in politics as a private citizen."

JUDGE O. W. POWERS MAKES A PREDICTION

Salt Lake, May 22.—Judge O. W. Powers, who recently returned from California, where he spent three weeks recuperating from a serious illness, was back at his desk yesterday. Regarding political affairs in California Judge Powers said that Champ Clark's great lead over Wilson in the recent primaries in that state was due to the excellent work of the Clark committee in the larger cities. In Los Angeles, the Clark "boosters" were particularly active, said the judge.

"While many states are instructed for Clark and Roosevelt or Taft as the opposing candidates, strange things happen in conventions," said Judge Powers, "and while predictions may be rather useless, I predict now that Bryan will be the Democratic candidate and Roosevelt the Republican candidate. It is almost certain that there will be a deadlock in the convention at Baltimore, and it is quite likely, in that event, that Bryan will be the compromise candidate."

"I believe that the people should have preferential primaries in every state by which they may express their preference for president and for all other men holding important public offices. The delegates from Utah to both the Republican and the Democratic conventions should have been definitely instructed as to which candidate to vote for. This procedure of delegating the delegates to reach a decision for the people is to be deplored. It is better to go down in defeat in support of one candidate than to be left without having at least registered a definite preference."

"In regard to the Republican aspirants for the nomination I talked with many people in Los Angeles, especially with the 'common people,' and they were all of the opinion that Roosevelt would be the choice of the people and that the sentiment for him, particularly in their state, was so strong that there was little use in trying to oppose it."

"Woodrow Wilson, I believe, was injured in his fight for the nomination by the unfortunate affair between himself and Colonel Harvey and later by his halfapologetic following the incident of the Bryan letters. Prior to this, he was strongly endorsed by the majority, I think, of the people, and the organization of his campaign was complete. Clark has won his support with practically no perfected organization. However, in spite of appearances prior to the national conventions, uninstructed delegations can complicate matters in choosing a delegate until there is practically no certainty of any one thing coming to pass, unless the states which have definitely instructed their delegations and given final expression to their choice of candidates can adjust matters."
